Subject: EVS Event - "The temperature Tale" (For Class V)

Dear Students,

The Science Department is delighted to announce a special event titled "Temperature Tale" to be held on 17th, December 2025, exclusively for Class V students.

The event aims to make students understand how temperature influences our surroundings, living beings, and daily life. Through engaging activities and creative presentations, students will explore concepts like heat, cold, temperature measurement, and how animals and humans adapt to different climatic conditions.

Objectives of the Event:

- To help students understand the concept and importance of temperature in our environment.
- To observe how temperature affects living and non-living things.
- To enhance curiosity through observation, experimentation, and discussion.
- To make EVS learning fun, interactive, and application-based.

Event Details:

- Topic: Temperature Tale
- Date: 17th, December 2025
- Venue: Class Room
- Participants: Class V Students

All students of Class V are required to participate actively in the temperature-based experiments and creative demonstrations.

Let's explore how the world changes with every rise and fall in temperature and become young "Temperature Trackers"!

Best regards,
BPSG
