ENGLISH EVENT REPORT

Day & Date: 8th October, 2026 (Thursday)

Event Name: "Plot and Panels – The Art of Storyboarding"

Class: IV-B

Objective of the Activity:

The activity aimed to develop students' creativity, imagination, and sequencing skills by encouraging them to represent stories through illustrated panels. It focused on enhancing their visual storytelling, comprehension, and ability to organise ideas in a logical sequence.

- Total No. of Students: 33

- No. of Participants: 29 (4Ab)

Brief Note about the Activity:

Students created storyboards by dividing their chosen stories into a sequence of illustrated panels. They used drawings, captions, and dialogues to depict the characters, setting, and important events of their stories. The activity encouraged them to arrange events logically, connect ideas, and express their understanding of storytelling through visual representation. Students participated enthusiastically, showcasing their imagination and artistic skills.

Outcome of the Activity:

- Students enhanced their creativity and visual storytelling skills through illustrations and captions.
- The activity developed their understanding of story sequence, plot development, and the arrangement of events.
- It improved their communication, comprehension, and ability to express ideas in an organised manner.
- Students gained confidence in presenting their stories creatively through pictures and words.

Result:

The activity was non-competitive, with students actively participating in creating their storyboards. Their work reflected creativity, logical thinking, and an understanding of story sequencing, making the activity an engaging and enriching learning experience.
